Paddling Is No Good

A Chicago pediatrician has endorsed the method of child discipline. But Dr. John Kenward told his colleagues meeting in Chicago today, that "If punishment is used, the child should be told why in each instance".

A Thing of Beauty....

The Lindsay Daily Post, Lindsay, Ontario.
It will be of interest to know that St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Lindsay will observe its Centennial commencing November 15th. It was one-hundred years ago, in the pastorate of Rev. Father Farrelly that the church was built. The land upon which it was built was given for parish purposes in 1854 by the Bank of Upper Canada to Rev. James Chisholm, D.D. who was then parish priest in Lindsay, in return for the latter's influence in promoting the granting of a bonus to the Port Hope, Lindsay and Beaverton Railway.

A week of centennial celebrations will be opened by Solemn Pontifical Mass sung by Bishop Webster, D.D., at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of Sunday, November 15th, by clergy and laity once connected with St. Mary's parish are expected to attend.

A huge parish banquet is planned for the evening of the same day. Special services of thanksgiving will be held in the church during the week.

A historic pageant will be staged by St. Joseph's Academy pupils, assisted by others in St. Mary's auditorium.

Over the last three years St. Mary's Church and also the rectory and convent have undergone renovations and improvements. The interior of St. Mary's church was completely decorated last year.

Within a few weeks the peak of three bells, the largest weighing one-ton-and-a-half will be run automatically by motorized equipment.

Prior to the erection of the present church in 1859 a small log church 40' long by 28' wide which is now the south-west corner of Lindsay and Russell Streets served the needs of the Catholic population of the district. The parish was then known as "Ops" and Emily". The first resident parish priest was Father Hugh Fitzpatrick of Fermanagh, Ireland, who came in 1840.

The first Mass said in this log church was on November 1st, 1841; the first Mass said in the present St. Mary's Church was on Christmas Day 1859.

As a permanent record of the Centennial, and also of the sweep of parish history of one-hundred-and-fifty years, a Centennial Volume is now being printed and will be available in December of this year.

A thing of beauty.... Those words describe very nicely the new St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Lindsay which is shown in the photo above. The picture was taken in connection with forthcoming Centennial Celebrations and the following letter from Rev. F. C. J. Carroll outlines some of the plans which the church has made to commemorate the occasion:

MAINTAIN CONTACT WITH MOON

A Soviet scientist says radio contact is being maintained with Lunik-3. Third, he says the moon rocket is returning to the region of the earth ... and will be visible from the Northern Hemisphere with simple optical instruments. Earlier the Soviet News Agency had stopped broadcasting press reports on the Lunik.

SOMETHING ELSE TO TALK ABOUT

The usual message among America's top rockets have given U.S. scientists something to talk about other than Russian Luniks. An Atlas rocket from Cape Canaveral yesterday, on the West coast a British team left the Thor from Vandenberg Air Force Base in California.

ASKS FOR COOPERATION

Russia has asked for international cooperation in space exploration. A Russian delegate to the U.N. proposed a scientific conference to pool space exploration experience. Some observers saw the proposal as a ploy by Russia to end its boycott of a U.N. space committee begun last year.

USE OF LAIT HARTLEY APPARS IMMINENT

Use of the Lait Hartley law appears imminent in the U.S. steel strike. The Federal intervention appeared likely after top-level negotiations collapsed in Pittsburgh yesterday. President Eisenhower twice has called on both sides to get down to some hard bargaining for the sake of the nation.

HEARINGS NEARING COMPLETION

A presidential fact-finding board is expected to complete hearings in one day on the seven-day-long steel strike which has crippled U.S. production from Maine to Texas. Longshoremen and Shippers' representatives will appear before the board today. The special board was report to President Eisenhower on the walkout of 85 thousand men.

'AMY' GROWING WEAKER

Typhoid Amy is reported weakening as it buffets Japan. But the storm brought heavy downpours in Midwest, and across Nagasaki. Precipitation say Amy's winds are whirling at 65-miles-an-hour.

FACES POSSIBLE 4-YEAR TERM

An out-of-work broadcast engineer faces a possible four-year prison term and two-thousand dollar fine for disrupting a television broadcast of the World Series. Harold Lindgren has been bound over to a circuit court in Escanaba, Michigan, charged with tampering with communications equipment. Lindgren has told police he disrupted a TV signal by stuffing a scrounged pad into microwave relay equipment.

INVESTIGATING THE POSSIBILITY

A Saginaw, Michigan, police are investigating the possibility of claiming payment for a 36-million dollar Quebec estate including the land enclosing the St. Anne de Beaupre Shrine. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sved said yesterday they discovered that Louis Portlance, Sved's great-grandfather, had claimed his family owned most of the land around the shrine. They added that Portlance had established his claim and agreed to settle for 18-million dollars but was killed in a shipping accident in 1913 before he collected.

WENT ON WILD SPENDING SPREE

A New York factory clerk who went on a wild spending spree with a Hilton Hotel Carte Blanche credit card which included a fling in Montreal is in a New York jail today. Police said Joseph R. Miraglia ran up debts of 10 thousand dollars after writing for and receiving a credit card he said he charged a 600-hundred mink stole for a girl he met in Montreal.

Police Chief William Weaver said $51.45 was missing from a drawer in the upstairs office. The chief said he did not know for certain how entry to the building had been gained but during the course of his investigations, he observed marks on a wall at the rear of the building which led him to believe entry could have been gained by passing a ladder against the wall, thereby reaching the roof.

Magistrate R. I. Moore said he would remand the accused in custody for one week before hearing any decision on the case.

Noticed along the way

THAT

In the days when horses played a prominent role in everyday life, the C.R.S. always considered essential that they be well shod if they were to perform at their best. Lindsay's Lions Club members feel the same thing holds true of humans ... A well shod man can stand on the own feet much better than one who is not. Cliff Little of Woodville is the man they chose this month to test their theory. He is the shoes-of-the-month man.

Some people take coffee breaks and then turn right around and drink tea ... others take a coffee break and drink milk or fruit juice or some other kind of juice but it took a man down in Waterloo, Iowa to establish the fact that some times a coffee break entails more than the cost of a cup of your favorite coffee break beverage. A United Press dispatch records the incident.

"The town of Waterloo, Iowa, is without garbage and sewer service ... thanks to one employee break too many. Street Department employees have gone on strike because Vince Massena was suspended 10 days without pay.

It seems Massena had stopped for coffee and was seen by a Street Department Superintendent.

The question arises: "Who met who's Waterloo?" There's one less orphan in Lindsay today thanks to the New Royal Hotel. A few days ago an item appeared in this paper indicating that one team in the Industrial Bowling League was virtually orphaned. It had no sponsor. The new manager of the hotel heard about the situation and in no time flat the team was removed from the orphanage. Al Gordon of Boston, Mass., says he's very pleased with the way the whole thing worked out. "We take in orphans," he explained, "but we try to find homes for them as quickly as possible."

Rev. Fr. Hart is reported to be enjoying the unexpected pleasure of a trip to Rome, birthplace of the Roman Catholic Church. Father Hart is attached to St. Mary's parish.

WORLD SERIES

Today is a day of rest and travel for the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Chicago White Sox as the World Series moves from sunny California to the cloudy shores of Lake Michigan. Yesterday the Chicago White Sox defeated Los Angeles 10 and kept alive their hopes for a National Championship. The Dodgers have a 2-2 edge in the best of seven series.

PITCHERS

Lopez named Early Wynn—A 39-year-old veteran who has started two games in this series as his starting hurler for Thursday's sixth game. Johnny Podres will start for Los Angeles. Podres won the second game of the series in Chicago last Friday.

HANEY

And Haney, who last week resigned as manager of the Milwaukee Braves, said on a radio interview in Milwaukee last night that there were "100 different things" which prompted his resignation. Haney said personal reasons were paramount in his decision. "He said that the other things I will never discuss."

KARLIVIAZ

The Los Angeles Rams have obtained defensive halfback Carl Karliviaz from the New York Giants. Karliviaz, a six-year veteran of pro football, was picked up for an undisclosed draft choice.

MICHIGAN

The University of Michigan, which hasn't won a game in two starts, learned yesterday that first string halfback Brad Myers will not be able to play against Oregon State this Saturday. Myers was knocked out and hurt his knee against Michigan State last week end.

BOXING

Welterweight Rudell Stith and Ralph Dupas meet tonight in a 10-round bout at Louisville, Kentucky. Dupas is currently listed third and Stith is number one in the N-B-A rankings.

BROKEN OFF

Negotiations for a George Chuvalo-Yvonne Durelle Canadian heavyweight championship fight have apparently been broken off. Chuvalo, the current champion from Toronto, said after he had scored a TKO over Frankie Daniels of Bakersfield, California, last month that he wanted to defend against Durelle, the Canadian lightweight champion from Lake St. Anne, New Brunswick. Toronto promoter Deacon Allen offered Durelle's manager, Chris Shaban, 10 thousand dollars plus expenses. Shaban replied that he had been offered 15 thousand dollars for Durelle to meet Bobo Olson in San Francisco. Allen refused Shaban's challenge to match the offer. Chuvalo is now in training at Syracuse, New York.

Introducing . . . Mr. John Wild

Lindsay figure skaters engage new professional

The Lindsay Figure Skating members are particularly urged to attend the annual meeting and become acquainted with Mr. Wild and the new executive, which will be arranging co-outlets for the start of skating early in November.

Mr. Wild turned profession in 1958-59 season and instructed at the Port Hope, Bowmanville, and Port Perry Clubs. This season he will continue to instruct at Bowmanville and Port Perry as well as his new appointment here.

Lindsay Figure Skating Club members, prospective members, parents and all those interested in figure skating are invited to meet Mr. Wild at the club annual meeting to be held in Cambridge Hall on Saturday evening, October 17th, at 8 p.m. Mr. Wild will address the meeting and will be pleased to answer questions regarding figure skating and his plans for the new season.

Another highlight on the program will be the election of officers. Much help is needed to carry out the extensive program and many hands make light work. Plans of one of the top skating stars will also be shown.

Before leaving out the 1958-59 season expressed their appreciation of the splendid support afforded the Club last year, first of all to Mr. Ed Kirby, Club professional, and to the many parents who offered a willing hand, and to the public who so splendidly supported the carnival last spring.

A further word of appreciation went to the Arena Company for their generous consideration of the club's position during the negotiations for its time. After examining the club's financial statement, the Arena Committee felt that the club had gone their limit in their offer, at increasing 50 per cent over last year, and by subsidy, offered to make the request is time available for this season.

Parents and prospective members are particularly urged to attend the annual meeting and become acquainted with Mr. Wild and the new executive, which will be arranging co-outlets for the start of skating early in November.

Mr. Wild turned profession in 1958-59 season and instructed at the Port Hope, Bowmanville, and Port Perry Clubs. This season he will continue to instruct at Bowmanville and Port Perry as well as his new appointment here.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Frederick Lance of Bobcaygeon are shown above as they sign the register following their marriage in Fellowship Baptist Church, Bobcaygeon.

Baskets of gladoli and white mums formed the setting for a very pretty wedding in the Bobcaygeon Baptist Church, when Mary Aileen daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stevenson became the bride of Harold Frederick Lance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lance, Bobcaygeon.

Rev. W. Miller officiated at the double ring ceremony with Mrs. Dorothy Robinson presiding over the wedding music. Miss Joan Oliver, niece of the bride sang "O Perfect Love" before the ceremony and "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register.

The bride given in marriage by her father, chose a floor-length gown of Roseport Lace and nylon net over tulle, the fitted bodice had satin neck-line lavishly trimmed with sequins. The very full, pale lace from waist to hem at the back, with an overlay of lace forming a small bustle effect, and had long, ruffled sleeves. Her veil of scalloped tulle illusion was caught to a hand of lace with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. She carried a white Bible, adorned with red roses and streamers knotted with rosebuds.

Mrs. Mildred Kerr, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and her bridesmaid was Mrs. Doris Graham, sister of the groom and Miss June Stevenson, sister of the bride, were groomed alike in ballerna length dresses of silk organza over tulle in tangerine and moss green, fashioned on Princess lines. The scoop neckline was draped with self fabric and held in place by embroidered medallions, and the lower skirt also draped with self fabric and medallion trim. Small matching footie bands with diamonds trimmed. Organza mitts with matching gloves were complimented.

The bride carried a gorgeous bouquet of yellow and bronze mums. The groom, was flower girl wearing maize nylon over tulle with matching head band and mitts. She carried a small basket of yellow and bronze mums.

Debbie Lane, niece of the groom, was flower girl wearing maize nylon over tulle with matching head band and mitts. She carried a small basket of yellow and bronze mums.

Steven Oliver, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer carrying a white satin ball and wearing white flannels and navy coat.

Mr. Clifford Lance was groomsmen for his brother, Lush were Mr. Neil Oliver.

The court took the action after pondering evidence which included testimony that Mrs. Doyle's former husband had made some uncompromising remarks about her. The testimony said the ex-husband followed her through the streets of Covello, Tennessee, and broadcast his remarks from a sound truck.

bride wore a shaggy wool suit of beige and brown woven with hunter green accents. Her corsage was of yellow mums.

On their return they will reside at 167 1/2 Robinson St., Peterborough.

Out of town guests were present from Toronto, Picking, Peterborough, Springdale, Ohio, Omsene, Buckhorn, Lakefield and Kirkfield.

Prior to her marriage the bride was honoured with a shower at the home of Mrs. Timar Graham, Peterborough, where she received many lovely gifts. Employees from Sashua Canada Ltd. also presented her with a Wedding house fry pan. Miss Donna May Anderson and Miss Marjorie Jenkins of Bobcaygeon gave a shower in her honour where the received many lovely and useful gifts. She also received a beautiful wool blanket from members and friends of "Fellowship Baptist Church," Bobcaygeon.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Roland Scott.

Announcing Meteor for 1960

1960 METEOR MONTECALI front-door sedan, one of Ford of Canada's five cars.

Canada's idea car of the year—and looks it!

Meteor's originality for 1960 shows in its three distinctive roof styles. From glamorous grille to tallight grouping, Meteor is unmistakably Canadian. Every flowing line is pure-bred function—its beauty tells you so! Power is new! Both Tempest V-8 and famous Econ-O-Fuel Six deliver maximum power at speeds you drive most. Standard engine purr best on low cost, regular grade gasoline. New standard full-flow oil filter allows up to 4,000 miles between oil changes. New lavish interiors provide more leg room, head room, and shoulder room. Doors open wider. New seat height is more comfortable with standard front seat foam cushioning. New smooth ride comes from a wider tread, a new front suspension and self-leveling rear suspension. New, 23" bigger brakes are largest in Meteor's field. In every way, Meteor is Canada's idea car of the year. See the most distinctive Meteor ever—at your Meteor-Mercury-Frontenac dealer now.

Colors: Maroon, Burgundy or metallic are standard on some models, optional on others and on others.

Sheep Raising in Prince Edward Island Scottish Sheep Steal Show

The sheep industry in Prince Edward Island while small in quantity, (approximately 31,000 last year) is big on quality with North Country Cheviots becoming increasingly popular in the past decade. Twenty-four ewes and 4 rams were brought over from Scotland in 1950 and today there are 210 purebred Cheviots — not nearly enough to meet the tremendous demand for them as breeding stock from other parts of Canada and the United States.

Eight-year-old Sharon Stewart hugs a yearling Cheviot at her father's farm near Charlottetown. Stock from the Stewart farm has taken grand champion prizes for the past 2 years at Toronto's Royal Winter Fair.

Spinner Earl Stewart is literally all wool and a yard wide as he gathers up an armful of Cheviot-Oxford blend for processing at one of the Island's two mills.

FACTS for FARMERS

Farming's Future.

The Canadian Broadcasting

Corporation says every farmer faces the problem of change.

It says technical advances and new marketing methods

call for new knowledge, new expenditures, expanded production programs — and that it's almost impossible for the individual farmer to keep pace although he must try to keep up with the changes that are at the root of many of his problems.

All this is said in view of the

C.B.C.'s National Farm Radio

Forum — a joint project of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, the Canadian Association of Adult Education, and the

C.B.C. Broadcasts are heard through C.B.C. and privately-owned stations making up the National Broadcasting System.

The C.B.C.'s "adjustment" is the watchword — the key to farming's future — and this year's programs attempt to show how the problems caused by these changes may best be met by farmers.

The C.B.C. suggests how individual farmers can form a Farm Forum. It advises he invite a few of his neighbours in for a Monday evening and to ask a member of a nearby Forum, or a fieldman, to help with the meeting.

It says a secretary should be selected for the season. Then the meeting should follow the suggested Farm Forum Program for the evening... read the Farm Forum Guide, listen to the broadcast, discuss the questions raised by those at the meeting, and any other discovered should finally be reported to the Provincial Farm Forum Secretary.

The Provincial Secretary will help make the conclusions effective. The topics for some of the coming programs are

The Small Farm — A Special Case" ... And "Market Expansion — A Practical Possibility."

There will be a special January series dealing with the central theme of adjustment.

Later in the year there will be programs about "Farm Advertising" — "Price Spreads"

Commission Findings" ... The Dangers of Farming ... And

The Relationship of Consumer and Farmer.

The latest estimate of Canada's apple crop is 14-million, 961-thousand bushels.

There is a drop of 12 per cent from last year's production.

Nova Scotia produced two-point-one million bushels.

British Columbia four-point-three million.

E. S. Eaton — an economist of the Canada Department of Agriculture — says the predicted crop will be about three per cent below the 1954 to 1956 average production.

Pluggin' right along

Plug thefts spark police action

A quantity of spark plugs were kept for late model cars was stolen from the Peterborough Automotive Supply Ltd. premises on Victoria Avenue South late Monday or early Tuesday a.m. Police Chief John Hunter says police Constable William Mosley discovered a pane of glass had been removed from rear window of the building. He made the discovery while on patrol duty.

When the manager - Mr. K. A. Sedgwick - arrived on the scene it was discovered that several cardboard cartons had been emptied and placed in the vicinity of where the spark

Two injured here within 90 minutes of each other; driver's father-in-law victim

Two accidents, involving personal injuries to two pedestrians, occurred in Lindsay on Saturday within 90 minutes of each other. One of the victims was the father-in-law of one of the drivers.

In the first accident, shortly before 8:30 p.m., John Fitzgerald, 15 Dixon Street, Lindsay, was admitted to the Ross Memorial Hospital suffering from fractured right leg and facial lacerations.

Mrs. Fitzgerald sustained the injuries when she was struck by a car on Kent Street west.

Police say Alan Ross Gaynor, 46 of Fenelon Falls, was the driver of the westbound vehicle.

When Mr. Gaynor's ambulance rushed the injured woman to hospital, Lindsay police are still investigating the accident.

Toronto woman finds happiness in Lindsay

A Toronto woman found happiness in Lindsay this week. She might have found it anywhere, but she realized one of her great ambitions in the county town.

It was here that Mrs. Van Kampen gained full privileges in that fast growing democracy, which is Canada's became a full-fledged Canadian citizen in a ceremony at Victoria County Court House presided over by Judge J. A. McGibbon.

Judge McGibbon told Mrs. Kampen that now that she was a citizen of Canada she would no longer be turned over to Canada. Mrs. Van Kampen came to Canada from Holland.

After Mrs. Van Kampen there were seven others who were applying for citizenship in the county town. As each person came before the Judge, they were asked many questions such as "how did you come to Canada?" and they knew the provinces of Canada, and the capitals; also if they knew who the Prime Minister of Ontario was, Britain's leader of Opposition and "who by the way is the High Commissioner to Canada?" The Judge also questioned

Chief Hunter said the same system was used in the recent theft at Walkwood where also in a large spark plug robbery in Oshawa last week. A late report by Chief Hunter states that an estimated 610 plugs were stolen.

Happy moment...

It was a happy moment for Mr. Thos. Trotter of Lindsay when he was presented with an agricultural service diploma in recognition of his service to Lindsay Central Exhibition. Premier Leslie Frost is shown here as he makes the presentation. In the background, the fair board. Fair Manager Newton Wilson asked that the matter be kept quiet prior to the presentation when he was asked if anything were being done to recognize Mr. Trotter's long (50 years) and faithful service to the agricultural society. Mr. Wilson also noted at that time that Mr. Trotter was one of the most useful men to have around the fair - "He can fix it in anywhere," the manager declared.

OF VITAL IMPORTANCE

Lindsay, there seems to be every reason to believe, is a place on the march again after a period of industrial inactivity extending over too long a period. There are few people who would say that the town didn't need this development and we find it hard to believe there are any who would do anything to retard it. Nevertheless, there are ominous things taking place in certain limited quarters which could seriously injure the town's new lease of industrial life. It is important that they should not.

Premier Leslie Frost said Saturday at Bobayevon Fair that "a good industrial climate" was all that was needed now for Lindsay to advance in this connection. He foreman the day—no too far distant—when Lindsay would be a city of 20,000 people. Mr. Frost's personal achievements make his opinions and advice worthy of heeding.

It is of vital importance that we in Lindsay foster those things which will make for a "good industrial climate."

Two hurt in area accidents

Mr. Ron Glover, 34, of Roches Point, Lake Simcoe, sustained minor injuries in a one-car accident at the dreaded "Suicide Junction" south of Lindsay Tuesday. The injured man was taken to hospital here but was released after treatment for lacerations over the right eye and elbow.

Police said Mr. Glover was the driver of a car which struck a cement light pole. The vehicle was proceeding east on Highway 74 at the time of the accident. Damage to the vehicle is estimated at $500.
OPP Constable Harvey Cook was the investigating officer. Some two hours after this accident the same officer investigated an accident at the same place which involved a Lindsay Company's truck.
It was revealed the driver of the truck—Mr. J. Percival R. R. Little Britain—injured his ribs when jumping clear of the vehicle.
Mr. Percival said the truck tipped after backing over a culvert.

Lindsay asks County representatives to investigate 'Good Roads' outing

Lindsay's representatives on Victoria County Council were asked Monday to carry out certain investigations into a trip made by several County Councillors to attend the annual Canadian Good Roads Convention in Vancouver, British Columbia.

Councillor Gordon Pepper asked Messrs. Bruce Maidens and Harry Price to find out why it was necessary for such a large delegation to attend the convention. Mr. Pepper also must be remembered that Lindsay pays a goodly share of the cost of such things. "The benefits are very questionable," declared the Council. Members of the committee who made the ten-day trip out west to attend the convention were Warden E. J. Murphy, Mr. H. Buckley, Mr. J. Murphy, Mr. J. Alton, Mr. L. Ashmore, Mr. and Mrs. J. Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin White, and County Clerk Frank Weldon.

Councillor Pepper said it

DeGroat declares:

Lindsay has no intention of 'raiding' other places

Lindsay hasn't yet, nor does it intend to, raid any other communities "of their industries." Industrial spokesman Mr. DeGroat made this declaration in a prepared statement replying to charges levelled by GAW's Canadian Director - George Burt.

Mr. DeGroat's statement reads: "The United Auto Workers have requested an investigation into what they term 'industrial raiding' of city plants by smaller communities. They have cited Lindsay as one of the alleged communities. As Chairman of the Lindsay Industrial Committee, I wish to advise the authors of this allegation that any such idea is absolutely ridiculous and foreign to our policy. We strive first of all to bring industry to Lindsay from countries outside of Canada and thus build up a Canadian industrial growth.

"It is not our intention to approach Canadian industries in other cities to try and persuade them to leave their present location in favour of our locality, although I would say with justifiable pride that the community has no intention to set up a branch plant or subsidiary in some centre other than their present scene of operations."

"There has been a trend for industry to decentralize and more from congested areas to the more pleasant living in smaller centres close to their markets. Should any industry intend to set up a branch plant or subsidiary in some centre other than their present scene of operations, I feel that I would be remiss in my duty if I did not advise them of the wonderful opportunities of locating in Lindsay."

"I am quite sure the Auto Workers will agree is a sane and sensible attitude to take. We in Lindsay have never in the past, and do not in the future, intend to deliberately attempt to 'raid' and other community of their industry because such a policy would help no-one. However, should we ascertain that an industry is contemplating expansion elsewhere or a move from their present location, we would most assuredly endeavour to convince them to come to Lindsay, should we feel that they would be a desirable asset to this community."

Canadian Woodmen of the World Commence fall activities at Lindsay

The Fall meeting was held in the newly-renovated Mosley Hall and was opened by C. Com. Ben Stevens.

The last minutes were read and adopted. A new member, Ed Nichols - was initiated.

A very interesting report on the convention held in Montreal was given by delegate Sou. Cleve Dayman and family in their beratement.

Pat Luck Supper
On Thursday evening, Sept. 19th a pot luck supper was served by members and their families.

Christian Education Sunday Observed

Fenelon Falls (PNS) - Christian Education Sunday was observed at the Sunday morning service in Fenelon Falls United Church, with a large congregation present. The Old Testament lesson, from Samuel was read by Bob Scheraga and the New Testament Lesson from St. John's gospel by Fay Webber. Mr. Donald Wilson gave an interesting talk to the children when he spoke of the early days of the Canadian Indians, especially of the work of the Rev. and Mrs. Edgerton Young among them.

With Mr. Bruce Cooper at the organ several messages in song added much to the service. The musical numbers were a chorus by the children's choir, in which the teachers, a delightful solo, "Send Down Thy Spirit" by Lindsay Oliver and an anthem, "Faithful Lord" by the "Young People's choir."

Rev. W. L. Clow conducted a short but most impressive service in which the teachers and officers of the Sunday School were dedicated to their offices and duties for the coming year.

Home and School Association

Fenelon Falls (PNS) - Mr. Murray McNeven, president, opened the September meeting of the Fenelon Falls Home and School Association, which was held in the Grade VIII classroom by reading "The Aims and Objects of Home and School Association."

The attendance pennant for the month was won by Room I.

The past president, Mrs. M. Platten presented medals for public speaking won by students last month as follows:

Senior-Isabel Anne Webster and Rosemary Mitchell.

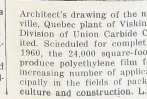

Junior-Barbara Weaver and Patricia Gaults.

Mr. Eric Leach, chairman for the Public School Board, presented the building program, now underway, and left blueprints for those interested to inspect. He then introduced the members of the teaching staff—Grade I, Mrs. N. Watson, Grade II, Mrs. D. W. White, Grade III, Mrs. C. Parrish, Grade IV, Mrs. Anne Jones, Grade V, Mrs. M. E. Lawrence, Grade VI, Mr. W. McClean, Grade VII, Mr. J. Dalby.

Mr. Dalby gave a short talk which included informative statistics and stressed rules for safety.

Lunch was served and then the parents were invited to visit the classrooms and meet the teachers. At the October meeting the Boy Scouts and Cubs will put on a demonstration of their activities.

Prayer by Rev. W. L. Clow brought the meeting to a close.

President, Visking Company, Lindsay, Division of Union Carbide Canada Limited, opened the plant on Thursday, April 1, 1960. Visking Company, Division of Union Carbide Canada Limited, with plants in Lindsay, Port Huron, Ontario, and in the U.S.A., is a large manufacturer of polyethylene film in Canada.

LOTS OF ROOM FOR EVERYBODY

There has been a lot of talk during recent days about housing development in Lindsay's outskirts. And that's what it has been—just talk with a fair sprinkling of backing behind for good measure.

This paper decided to get one point straight in connection with the various proposed housing developments. It is well to the point to ask the question: "What are the town's assessment commissioner, Mr. Don Toftmire, and Mr. Toftmire assures us. In answer to a direct question, that there would be little danger of throwing the municipal economy out of line if it were possible for all the proposed subdivisions to proceed at once.

Toftmire tells us that Lindsay is now in a very healthy state from the standpoint of the relationship between homes and industry... The two are very well balanced, he states, and he further assures us that this situation would, in all likelihood continue to prevail even if all the proposed housing subdivisions were proceeded with at once.

It should be kept in mind, however, that the proposed subdivisions are outside Lindsay's borders and would remain so unless the areas are annexed so that basically it is Ope Township and not Lindsay which must be immediately concerned.

WELL, HOW ABOUT THIS?

Saturday was a wonderful day for those communities which were holding their annual fall fairs and bazaar. Lindsay was no exception. The threat of rain held off and not even a sprinkle fell on the fairgrounds.

The fair was an impressive affair with a variety of attractions to catch the fancy of almost anyone "with an eye to the show."

As we left the fair to return to Lindsay, one thing struck us forcibly... We hadn't spent a thing on games or souvenirs... A companion observed: "That's one thing I noticed, they were out there to see how much of your money they could get, they wanted people to come to the fair for the fair's sake."

We had to admit, on reflection, that it had been a most enjoyable experience and one we wouldn't mind repeating... But then Bobcaygeon fair is known internationally—it needs no recommendation from us.

IF THERE IS ONE THING...

If there is one thing which is needed far more in Lindsay than in the rest of the town, it is more consideration for the man over 40 years of age.

The foregoing statement is made on the basis of conversations with people in the town who are over 40 years of age. The statement is made on the basis of conversations with people who are over 40 years of age. The statement is made on the basis of conversations with people who are over 40 years of age.

One of these individuals told us as recently as Friday afternoon that he had applied for a job with a Lindsay manufacturer and had been given to understand that his age was all against him. In short he was told that at 47, to be considered eligible for employment in that industry. You can imagine how this would make a person willing to work long but simply imagining his state of mind is not enough.

The problem of knocking down the 'over 40' barrier to getting a job should be tackled with vigour and right here in Ontario.

Ontario recently passed anti-discrimination legislation, a law which, while well-intended, apparently hasn't been able to prevent discrimination against the worst and most self-destructing discrimination of all—discrimination on the basis of age.

It's time the 'over 40s' awakened to the situation and protested vigorously against this plight and it's also time for the under 40s to safeguard their future... It's later than they think!

COLOUR AND SAFETY

Colour is an extremely important colour being used for safety purposes that safety colour codes for industry have been developed by the American Standard Association as a means of eliminating confusion and misunderstandings.

Standardization of colour is important in many ways, including the location of safety equipment, and identifying it and other protective equipment are specified in the American Standards Association's Safety Color Code for Marking Physical Hazards and the Identification of Certain Equipment. However, as the National Safety Council's Safety Manual points out, colour is not intended as a substitute for meaningful safeguards but rather as a supplement to other safety measures. Hazards in which colors should be eliminated by engineering methods or by other means are the standard safety color code used by many industries is as follows:

RED is recommended for identifying fire protection equipment, danger, and emergency stop mechanisms.

YELLOW, because of its high visibility, is the standard color for marking hazards that may result in accidents from slipping, falling, striking against, etc.

GREEN, because of its low visibility, is the standard color for marking hazards, such as the green cross on a combination lock, which designates the location of first-aid and safety equipment.

BLACK AND WHITE and combinations of them in stripes or patterns are used to identify housekeeping areas and for traffic markings.

—Occupational Health Bulletin
By Joseph Fleming, UPI Berlin

Freedom is as far away as ever for East Germany as the country celebrates the 10th anniversary of the "German Democratic Republic". The Communist East German State was founded 10 years ago next Wednesday.

More than six years have passed since East German workers rebelled for bread and freedom. One of their demands has been fulfilled. There is enough food to buy but most persons complain there's little else to do with their money.

The absence of freedom was clearly illustrated the other day in Leipzig. A farmer was arrested for inviting neighbors to watch the West German television.

Berlin, an undisclosed number of taxi drivers were arrested as Western spies.

Bananas and "a thousand other things" that West Germans lack for granted also are missing in the Eastern sections of the divided country.

But Communist leader Walter Ulbricht says that East Germany plans to almost double the value of consumer goods production in a seven-year period. Like Khrushchev's boast for Russia, Ulbricht promises the people that the Germans will catch up to the American standard of living.

Undoubtedly, East Germany has made great progress in the last decade. Visitors to East Germany and other East German cities still are struck by the dramatic sharp contrast with West Germany's unprecedented, albeit prosperity. But the contrast is not as sharp as it once was.

East Germans now look better, eat better and dress better than they did a year ago. Compare East Germany with another Soviet satellite and it looks good.

Travelers who go through East Germany after visiting Poland say conditions in East Germany are much better. East German leaders claim they now have the highest standard of living in the world.

East Germany's economy is the fifth industrial power in Europe... is the first in capital production it has first place in the world in synthetic fiber output... is fifth in electrical energy... sixth in chemical production.

The Soviets, however, claim that East Germany's economic status and pumping millions of dollars into the zone to insure they are carried out.

Noticed along the way

Joseph Brevda

THAT "Not everyone can come first but it is often those who come first who get the most attention. This is the exception to the rule..."

Joseph Brevda, pronounced Brevda, announced by Radio Station CKLY Lindsay but there are those who believe Joseph might have won under different circumstances.

The standing of contestants, it is reported, were determined by means of an applause meter and when the first recordings were made, there were two who were tied with 60 points and the first place standing went to one in the group who had 93 points.

In other words, first place was awarded while a tie situation existed. Afterwards, the tie was dealt with and Joseph (one of the two) in the position was given undisputed second place standing by the meter which credited him with having received 105 points.

Some of those people close to the situation feel that in contrast to such as this a tie position should be broken before proceeding to determine the final winner... They base their belief on the fact that Joseph received more points in second position than the one who had been declared the winner minutes before.

Joseph is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kaiman Brevda, Angeline St. South, and just before the picture above was taken, he gave an impromptu repeat performance of the two numbers he had played in the contest: Ben Ristu Shene (To me you are fairest) and The Merry Widow Waltz.

As one might expect, the surroundings of his home, it was not the music which held the attention, although it was excellent... It was the devotion to the music that boy was given to the music.

Whether or not he had placed first or second didn't matter much to him either, for all that every mother likes to see her boy shine on top. What mattered most was that there was a boy who was learning to make music. "Music hath charms..."

The problem is not that of getting skill help in the old-fashioned sense, he said. We want people who can think, people who understand the philosophy as well as the technique of their participation... If they are to go to the top it is not their university experience that should include a lot more than the mere techniques of their trade, important though these are.

Students have foundered on the fact that they are not an educated man for a job but it can't necessarily educate the trained man. Many parents and students have not realized that in the time, the training 'phase' of education is all important.

Recently, in an opinion survey conducted by the University of Toronto during its current fund-raising campaign, respondents were asked "What is the most important function of a university?"

Just over 50 per cent of university graduates named the training of doctors, teachers, engineers, scientists and other professions. Only 32 per cent—or less than a third—admitted that fostering creative thought and research, and independent learning were the main purpose of a university.

The answers of university graduates were in almost reverse ratios.

It is apparent that a majority of potential students and their parents shun the study of the needs of industry and society. The successful leaders and decision-makers today—while they also may be the successful leaders of tomorrow who have a broad understanding and insight into the needs of society, both past and present.

As technical progress quickens the problems of human relations will become more acute and industries will more than ever need leaders who can relate the demands of technology to the needs of man.

Peirce resists recreation bylaw; Pepper cites black ink outlook

Lindsay's new recreation bylaw, which is being debated by the Recreation Committee Monday-revealed that the Deputy-revealed Harry Peirce, Mayor before it was given its second and third readings. During the lengthy debate on the bylaw, the deputy-revealed the time had come when it was necessary to say, when it might be better to discontinue the so-called programme of recreation. The profitable recreation programme, which was then close the building up for the summer months" declared the speaker.

Mr. Peirce said recreation never really was accepted in this town by the public. Recreation Committee Chairman G. Pepper in his opening remarks said for the first time in several years the arena was in the black. "I anticipate if all goes well we should stay in the black or else not get out of the black," the chairman revealed.

Pepper, a very serious man, understanding locally that the budget money was all spent on recreation. "That is wrong," declared Mr. Pepper, "the money has been going to the arena and the recreation program."

It was suggested by Mayor Burrows that due to the late loss of the year the committee should continue operating the arena without a director. "Spend the money saved on promoting the arena," the speaker said.

Mr. Pepper told Council members that the program he allowed to continue until the end of the year. The chairman in outlining details of the activities carried on under the town's recreational program, said there was a schedule of revenue for the year.

All leaves cancelled, unmarked cars to aid OPP's safety effort

All leaves have been cancelled, unmarked cars will go into service and all radar are to be removed from highways on Thanksgiving weekend and these steps were announced today by District Inspector J. A. Stringer of the Ontario Provincial Police. The department is designed to keep traffic accidents at a minimum during the holiday weekend.

Here is the text of the Inspector's statement: "The same law enforcement measures will be adopted throughout the forthcoming Thanksgiving weekend as were applied over the past Labour Day weekend."

"All leaves are cancelled, the exception being annual vacations for the building from September 21st to 23rd. There are not too many black spaces in the program," declared the speaker.

Citing one of the things needed to get the program going, the speaker said the chairman said a good committee under good leadership was the prime need. "How can the recreation program be developed when there are constantly changing committees and chairmen?" he asked.

It was suggested by the speaker that for a trial basis the committee be allowed to choose its own chairman. Deputy-revealed Peirce argued that a member of Council should be chairman of the committee. The speaker said he was of the opinion that Council would be up to date on the latest developments of the committee's work if it were headed by a Council member.

It was suggested by the mayor that eight groups be using the arena. He felt it was a "real" proposition and "could see no reason for the hiring of a director."

Members of Council were reminded by Mr. Pepper that if there is no director then there is no grant from the province. Coun. Archibon felt that too much was done for the youngsters. He took away their initiative.

Before a motion proposed by Coun. Hutton was put to a vote, Deputy-revealed Peirce reaffirmed his earlier statement that the so-called recreational program should be discontinued and an arena manager be hired. On motion of Coun. Hutton, seconded by Mr. Pepper, the motion to allow the bylaw to stand as read was adopted.

Voting against the motion were Mayor Burrows, Coun. Peirce and MacCaldor.

Health Board serves sewer ultimatum

Lindsay's controversial plugged sewer on Adelaide Street is causing further concern to the Lindsay Health Board. Mayor Lloyd Burrows told Monday night's meeting of the board.

The mayor said he had received an ultimatum from MOH W.R. Crowe and Board Chairman M. Stephens that necessary repairs will be carried out to rectify the situation. The bill for the work will be forwarded to Council.

Board of Works Chairman Jas. McQuarrie said repairs to the existing sewer line would have to be made by the county and a new sanitary sewer be installed.

The chairman said the matter was now being discussed with Municipal Committee of the Home for the Aged.

Newspaper Story Distorted And Far From Truth...Peirce

Lindsay Town Council at a meeting Monday unanimously voted in favor of standing by the decision to supply services outside the corporation. Council agreed that if the Township consented to give their approval to annexation the town will supply services to the area under certain conditions.

This decision was taken after a lengthy debate by members of Council. The debate was sparked following receipt of a letter from Mr. Neville Stoller, president of the Permanent Improvement Corporation which asked for Council's final decision regarding the supplying of services to a proposed subdivision in Springleade Gardens.

Before serious discussion on the matter got underway, Coun. J. McQuarrie asked his fellow members whether they felt the meeting to be private or open. Deputy reeve Peirce said he felt the matter should be dealt with in public. "It is not a policy to exclude the press," declared Mr. Peirce. The Council officer went on to say there were several things he had to say and he wanted the press to hear them.

Deputy reeve Peirce told Council he had received a letter from Stoller, president of the Permanent Improvement Corp. the go ahead or else bomb would be placed in my house or car.

Referring to a press release by Mr. Stoller made exclusively to the Peterborough Examiner which appeared Sept. 25, Mr. Peirce said the facts were "distorted and very far from the truth."

Dealing with an article appearing in the Peterborough paper Oct. 7, Mr. Peirce said the facts appearing in a story appearing to have been written by Browne Astor Town were "far from the truth."

Continuing his scathing attack on the outside newspaper the deputy reeve said he had no intention of starting subscribing to it, said Mr. Peirce.

He said Mr. Peirce was not going to go into the heavy equipment department. The councillor suggested once this step was taken there was no need to go into the heavy equipment department. The councillor suggested once this step was taken there was no need to go into the heavy equipment department. Colour Tour

There were many people in the county over the weekend but very few got out to see the beauty of the county — in between wind and rain and even snow flurries it was the coldest Thanksgiving in years.

Chartered buses went through the village and families gathered around the fireplaces.

Those who came from other towns were disappointed with the weather man.

QUIZ SHOW RIGGING

New York City (UPI) — A new charge of rigging on a television quiz show has been made against "The 64-Thousand Dollar Question." The Reverend Charles Jackson of Tallahassee, Tennessee, said that R. Moore had been told to win up to 16,000 dollars on the show and had then been told it was time for him to quit.

William Byers of Fenelon Falls had a charge of breaking entry and theft dismissed in Lindsay Magistrate's Court this morning.

Byers was told by Magistrate R. Moore he was very suspicious of his actions. The court warned Byers to leave the area.

At a previous hearing Byers had pleaded not guilty to a charge of breaking entry and theft from the Fenelon Falls, September 20.

Reeve Bruce Maitland said he had not been able to sell him on the machine. The reeve suggested a bigger and better machine. He suggested a bigger and better machine. He suggested a bigger and better machine.

Council Decides Against Purchase of New Loader

Town Council at a meeting Monday voted 5-4 against purchasing a $17,000 Caterpillar loader.

Board of Works Chairman Jas. McDougall revealed that he had told him he had purchased a similar machine. Mr. Jenkins said the town was giving the town priority on all work disclosed Mr. McQuarrie. He said he could foresee difficulties in this arrangement.

Councillor Mel DeGroat said it had not yet been proven to rent the machine during the winter to see how things would work out. Mr. Peirce revealed that Mr. Peirce had told him he had purchased a similar machine. Mr. Jenkins said the town was giving the town priority on all work disclosed Mr. McQuarrie. He said he could foresee difficulties in this arrangement.

Dance held in honor of Newlwoods

Mount Horeb (PNS) — Res-bore Community Hall was the scene for a very enjoyable evening when about a hundred and fifty friends and neighbours gathered to honor Mr.
and Mrs. Graham (Loni) Archer on their recent marriage. The Square and round dancing was enjoyed to the music of Letty
Williams and his boys.

Nearing midnight Joe and Eleanor were called to the platform and Dave Wagstaff read the address wishing Joe and Eleanor a bright and prosperous married life. Ted Fanning then presented the happy couple with a well filled purse as a token of the esteem in which they are held by the neighbors and friends. All joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

Joe and Eleanor thanked every one for their thoughtfulness and gift and asked one and all to call on them in their home in Lindsay.

October meeting of Pleasant Point, Mariposa, W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. T.
A. Venner.

Mrs. Lawrence Nicholls was leader for the devotional period and also read the topic
"Power and Deeds." Mrs. Venper are to be the same as last year. Mrs. Geo. Starr of Little Britain will show pictures the same evening as the bazaar.

Facts For Farmers

Record High

Grain stocks in the world's four major exporting countries, hit a record high last July.
Preliminary estimates indicate total stock of 153-million short tons for the five major grains in Canada, the United States, Australia and Argentina. The grains are wheat, corn, rye, barley and oats.

The July first stock is 12 per cent above the level one year earlier. It is the highest record for the seventh straight year. A considerable part of the sharp increase is due to record carryover stocks of wheat and corn in the U.S.

Something New

Something new in the way of Auction Sales — at least as far as the Truro, Nova Scotia Livestock Auction Market is concerned — promises to be the sale of draft horses scheduled for next Thursday.

Dr. L. B. Nettleton, an author in connection with the affair, says that if the event is a success, it might very well become an annual event and could even lead to a similar sale in the spring.

A livestock sale held at Truro recently was quite successful, with entries including some attractive cattle in the dairy section and the usual strong entry of calves.

report given by Mrs. Ezra Thurston.

Moved by Mrs. Walter Brin seconded by Mrs. Ezra Thurston that we make Miss I. M.

Pitt Polder Prospers

There is a thriving Dutch settlement in the Lower Fraser Valley near the Pitt River where an industrious group of engineers and farmers are building dykes and creating polders. Today, approximately 8000 acres of marsh land have been reclaimed, of which about 2000 acres are under cultivation. Above, wooden-shoed children fish for trout in one of the many creeks which flow through the rich farmland.

Eight dairy farms are now in operation. Each farmer owns from 40 to 50 milk cows. The lush pasture-lands produce top quality products in abundance.

Reclamation of the marsh lands, now known as Pitt Polder, began back in 1911 but it was not until 1910 when a Dutch businessman, Mr. J. Blom, visited the site on a visit to Vancouver, that the project began in earnest.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Tedorshorst, who come from the district near Arnhem, arrived in Canada from Holland 71 years ago. Above, they pose with their 3 children in front of the big, aluminum-roofed barn on their prosperous farm. In addition to dairying, the land is used to grow a variety of vegetables, rye and oats.

Children of one of the Dutch farmers discover that their wooden shoes make an ideal boat as they play in the placid waters of Sturgeon Slough which flows by their home.

Under the direction of Dutch hydraulic engineers, pump-boats as they play in the placid waters of Sturgeon Slough which flows by their home. ing equipment, with a capacity of 80,000 gallons of water per minute, has been installed.

Mrs. L. M. of Los Angeles says, "I have had to live with my husband's very nervous. I'm getting that way too, trying to keep things smooth around the house. He's too tough and unyielding on me and our three children."

She goes on to say that her husband was on his own since the age of 13 because his parents were divorced.

L.M. adds, "The main reason for pouring out my woes to you is this. In my heart I don't believe that any doctor who sees only the body and not the man behind the body, can be of help to my husband."

Editorial

SMOKING ON THE CAMPUS . . .

The question of smoking by high school students has been raised in Chatham where the principal of McGregor secondary school has recommended a reserved area on the school grounds where boys may smoke if they wish to. The principal Gordon Guidry suggests that it is better for the boys to smoke openly than on the sly.

Principal L. F. McGee of Leno Technical School is quoted in the same dispatch as having said that such a smoking area has been an established tradition for boys in the eleventh grade and up for more than a decade.

In Lindsay, it is a well known fact that students of the L.C. do their smoking off the campus (at least in some instances) and that the habit is freely indulged by both sexes. The fact that they smoke off the campus is reportedly looked upon with considerable favor by those who sell soft drinks and cigarettes. And who can really blame them? . . . They are in business and are quite aware of the fact that the students are going to buy cigarettes somewhere and it might as well be from them. This patronage is encouraged by not forbidding them to smoke on the premises, something which is forbidden by the school.

It is realized that the problem of smoking among teenagers is one of some magnitude and that there are different views as to the propriety of students smoking on the campus. However, it should also be recognized in the light of reality that they are smoking during school hours and that they have to sneak about it. . . . In view of this, is not the major issue to be resolved one of whether it is best to allow smoking openly in prescribed areas on the campus or to force the students to sneak a few puffs on the Q.T.? And are we going to insist that girls in school do not do the same things as boys to induce the habit and therefore do not require similar consideration?

Anything done "under cover" is much more dangerous to cope with than that which is indulged "out in the open". Right or wrong?

THIS MAN HAS A POINT

A comparison between Lindsay and Toronto from the standpoint of traffic, traffic regulators, signs, etc. would probably seem ridiculous at first glance but is it Lindsay, like Toronto, has a multitude of signs designed to aid the motorist but do they? It is possible that the driver is kept so busy looking out for, and reading, signs that he hasn't enough time to do a decent job of driving?

Consider if you will, the following news item which appeared in Thursday's Toronto Daily Star:

The more intersections become cluttered with traffic lights, signals and indicators the more likely accidents will occur there, according to J. T. Hewton, its operation engineer.

Matters of special interest

GREAT CREDIT GRABBERS

The Soviets are great credit grabbers. They've long since taken credit from almost everything from invention of the bicycle to the steamboat.

It's a quirk of the times. The Soviet Union now taking partial credit for the Conservative election victory in Britain.

Moscow radio shed not a tear for the defeat suffered by British Socialists . . . and seemingly wasted not a second thought on the fact that Communist candidates far exceed even less than they did in 1955.

If the Soviet Communists seem to be changing their choice of political bed-fellows, it may be traced to the tremendous pressure Soviet Premier Khrushchev is building up for a summit conference.

Prime Minister Harold MacMillan took as a plank in his campaign platform the fact that it was he who first made the trip to Moscow to see Khrushchev during the Berlin crisis. He also claimed that it was he who instituted the idea that led to Khrushchev's U.S. visit.

It is certain the makers of Communism detect the capitalist roots of Britain's Conservative government. But it was obvious that at this time, the Kremlin giving the Conservatives' reelection to their advantage.

MacMillan has been the West's strongest advocate of a summit conference in the quest for world peace. Had the victory scales been reversed, it had been assumed that British Foreign Ministry would be taken over by the fiery Aneurin Bevan, Bevan is a Socialist whose thinking might normally be considered closer to Moscow's own.

Actually, it was this, plus Bevan's frequent anti-American blasts, which would make him a liability to Khrushchev's summit hopes.

A British government whose thinking did not parallel Washington's own might be a factor in hardening the Soviet line. It is not clear that it was a Socialist whose thinking might normally be considered closer to Moscow's own.

Speaking at the convention of the Institute of Radio Engineers which opened at the CNE's automotive building yesterday, Mr. Hewton said this was because too many signs, did nothing but make drivers angry—and the modern approach to traffic control is to "remove as many as possible of the things that made the driver angry."

Too many controls not related to traffic needs can actually cause more congestion, he said.

Mr. Hewton said the increase in accidents was alarming. For hundreds of years, man has been using road signs. High up on the list of improvements he put such electronic devices as traffic lights with built-in computers, which could actually judge the relative volume of traffic on any street and automatically change the timing to suit changing traffic conditions.

So aside from the natural disappointment suffered by Labor Party Leader Hugh Gaittack, Bevan and others among the Labor hierarchy, the British election outcome seems to have met with general approval.

While they preserved a cautious silence during the campaign, it was obvious from their reactions that the U.S., French and West German governments were relieved at the outcome.

World business interests approved the victory because it provided reason to believe the British pound will remain steady, uninflicted by Socialist economic experiments.

MASTERS AND SERVANTS

Mr. Dal Grauer, president of the British Columbia Power Corporation, pointed out in a speech at Vancouver last week that Canada's installed capacity of electrical power is 16 million kilowatts. This means that each Canadian has a kilowatt working for him, supporting and largely accounting for his high standard of living.

Canada's potential capacity of electrical power is of course much greater. Mr. Grauer went on to say that British Columbia alone has a potential capacity of 30 million kilowatts. In other words, British Columbia alone could support, at their present electrical standard, almost twice as many people as there are in all Canada today. Yet there still are those who say Canada has enough people.

FARM CREDIT ACT PROCLAIMED

Canada's new Farm Credit Act, passed by Parliament during the last Session, went into effect Monday, October 5th, the Hon. Douglas S. Harkness, Minister of Agriculture, announced.

The Act will succeed the Canadian Farm Loan Act, and all assets and responsibilities of the Canadian Farm Loan Board will be taken over by the new Farm Credit Corporation.

Under the new farm credit system, up to $20,000 in loans will be made available instead to the previous maximum of $15,000, for the purchase of a farm, or farm improvement. Interest on the loans has been fixed at 5 per cent to make it more equitable to borrowers than a fluctuating rate.

Further, provisions are now more flexible. For example, a loan can be based on 75 per cent of the appraised value of the farm instead of 65 per cent.

Tailored to meet the needs of the younger farmer, a new type of assistance — the supervised loan — can be made to applicants between 21 and 45 years, to allow them to set up an economical farm unit. This type of loan bears as high as 75 per cent of the appraised value of the farm and chattels, but may not exceed $27,500.

Arrangements will be made to have district supervisors and field officers under the Veterans' Land Act assist the Corporation with the supervision of these loans.

Turning Back The Calendar

While passing a most dangerous deep ditch between St. David Street, and the towns east boundary line on Queen St., this date 50 years ago, a well known east ward grocer met with an accident.

The driver was coming down Queen St. to get a few bags of potatoes before going to the store. While he was stopped at the house, the front wheel of his delivery wagon, fell into a deep gutter, and threw the wagon, and contents upside down in the ditch. The driver fell under the rig, but was not seriously hurt. The harness though was somewhat broken.

States referenced a finding by the Draper Committee in its reports to President Eisenhower.

The Draper Committee was the President's Committee to Study the U.S. Military Assistance Program, a group of ten distinguished men outside government who to complete their task, studied the whole mutual security operation.

On the context of the grim cold war struggle between democracy and communism, the committee spoke this way:

"The critical question, the one that will determine the ultimate victory, is whether we and the other free world nations . . . will be able to unify our world and direct its energies toward a common goal, or whether the world is to be organized by the communist bloc."

Basically, the committee was saying that the critical question is whether the free nations are to organize their world with freedoms for all whether the communists are going to organize the world with tyrannies for all.

The President in addressing the nation on his recent visits with our free world friends in Europe, touched on the "growing problem" of "newly-formed nations" in which "more than one billion needy people require real advances in education, health facilities and living standards."

And he said, "Since all of us outside the Iron Curtain want such progress to be achieved in freedom . . . free nations must . . . provide the needed help. No one nation alone should or can bear the burdens involved."

Here then the President as the symbol of America's world leadership was speaking of how we and the other industrialized free nations should join in organizing the energies of all toward the common goal of freedom in contrast with the communist goal of tyrannies for all.

Made in Newfoundland's Capital Rope, Twine and Fishing-lines

In St. John's Newfoundland one of Canada's oldest cordage companies has supplied the needs of Atlantic fishermen for three-quarters of a century. For hundreds of years fishermen have relied on nature's natural fibres for their nets and ropes. Today, synthetics materials like nylon are being combined with age-old fibres to give the fishermen a more reliable product.

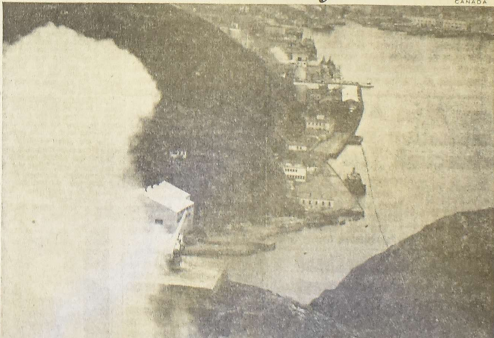

Washing over a pound for each of its 160 feet, this roll of rope will be used as a mooring line. Huge hawsers or three-halves herring nets are all in a day's work at this unique Newfoundland rope factory.

The sound of the noon-day gun on Newfoundland's historic Signal Hill overlooking the harbor of St. John's has been a tradition since 1842. Visited by John Cabot in 1497, St. John's was claimed for Queen Elizabeth I by Sir Humphrey Gilbert in 1583.

HOW TO CONTROL HOUSE CRICKETS

Crickets are exasperating. They sneak into your house. They keep you awake nights. They damage woolens, silk, cotton, and other fabrics. And who can find them?

The house cricket is pale brown and about three-quarters of an inch long. Few homemakers know this, because the pest has the knack of being "heard but not seen". As soon as the weather cools down, the cricket leaves the garden and sets up shop in your house, where it may remain active for a while winter. It lays its eggs in cracks and crevices. There is only one generation each year.

What about that infernal chirruping? For sake of interest, the song of the cricket is produced by the male rubbing together the outer part of wings. Night-time is his favourite time for chirping. Light sleepers and those concerned with the welfare of their household may be interested in the night department of Agriculture, which advises by the Ontario pest spray or a 5 per cent dust. Direct the material in spots near any warm place where the crickets may be hiding.

For outside control, try a ¼ inch chlordane spray. Put on infested vegetation and garage.

TULIP BRIGHT CAN BE STOPPED IN THE FALL

There's good sense in combating tulip blight in the fall, according to botanists of the Ontario Dept. of Agriculture. Why? Well, it seems that this blight, which is caused by Botrytis blight of tulips or tulip blight. It shows itself on the bulb scales first as tiny dark flecks which gradually enlarge, together, giving a burnt appearance. The spot remains often become raised and yellow. The diseased areas are yellow or brown. Badly infected bulbs won't give you any plants next spring, but just luck, you may get a stunted, blighted substitute of a tulip. Infected tulips on the whole or light tan spots on the petals. These spots also merge to form brown areas. Some bulbs may become blighted before opening.

The leaves? They become speckled and show water spots. Twisting and wrinkling of blighted leaf tips and margins are common. And the stems? They have elongated and may fall over or become spotted and may fall over in some cases.

Here are some tips for your fall tulip plantings:

—Choose a sunny open site with good circulation for your bulbs; there will be less blight if the top can dry quickly after rain and dew.

—Plant disease free bulbs. First, remove the dry outer scales and examine the bulbs. Discard any that show disease symptoms.

—Avoid planting in beds where blight has been before. Count on two years before the bed is disease-free.

—Sterilize infected beds of tulips must be planted there. Here's how: Dig the bed with a fork, making sure the soil is loose to a depth of 4 inches. Water the bed with a solution consisting of one gallon commercial formalin (37 per cent formaldehyde) per 40 gallons of water. Apply ½ gallon of solution for every square foot of bed. Cover the bed with a tarpaulin of several thicknesses of wet newspaper. Do not use this for 10 days. Do not use this in planting in perennial borders, or where the chemicals may damage the roots of adjacent shrubs. Avoid getting formalin on the skin and try to avoid the fumes. It is quite irritating to the eyes, nose, and skin.

No Horror Movies

High Anglican Churchmen in London are worried over the effect of horror movies and have even urged an investigation.

But their concerns doesn't seem to be shared by the nudist colonies.

Clergymen in a church magazine say the "gudist films" are a menace to society and that it seems impossible they can do harm."

Shown above are some of the many persons who visited G.M. Road last week to participate in a Cancer Society Workshop as part of a vast campaign aimed at successfully waging war on cancer. There were many from Lindsay and Victoria County as well as from outposts points at the District 3 meeting. Getting underway in the morning, the workshop carried through until mid-afternoon. During the course of the afternoon session, Premier Leslie M. Frost dropped in following official fair-opening participation in Bobcaygeon. Were there were then the camera clicked.

Guest Speaker

The September meeting at Queen Street Evening Auxiliary of the W. M. S. was held in the basement auditorium of the Church on Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. with a good number in attendance. The president Mrs. O. McGill, called the meeting to order with the singing of hymn No. 249, Jesus Shall Reign, followed by the W. M. S. pledge. Mrs. McGill welcomed all present with a special 3 welcome to Mrs. C. Jarvis of Toronto and the ladies of the Afternoon Auxiliary.

A short business period followed during which Mr. H. G. Lester explained the Sector Plan to those present. Mrs. E. Thurston and Mrs. A. Clarke were appointed to represent the Evening Auxiliary on the Proposal committee of the Sector Plan.

Reports of the various secretaries were received. The Supply secretary asked that good used clothing be brought in the October meeting to be packed for the Missionary Bait.

Mrs. Ross McGill led the Devotional Period opening with Hymn 20. Mrs. Hawley read the Scripture, prayer was given by Mrs. A. Huston. The offering was received and dedicated. Hymn 238 was then sung.

Mrs. W. V. Ferguson introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. C. Jarvis, recently retired Christian Stewardship Secretary of the Dominion Board of the W. M. S. Smoking, cancer are related but not proven as causative, doctor tells Gil-Mar group

"There is evidence that lung cancer and smoking are related, but there is no evidence that smoking causes cancer," stated Dr. A. J. Phillips, addressing a workshop conference of the Canadian Cancer Society, Division District 8, held at the University of Toronto on Tuesday.

Dr. Phillips, Statistician of the National Cancer Institute, told his audience of over 100 people that there was no evidence that smoking causes cancer although there was evidence that smoking and lung cancer are related.

The speaker asked his audience the question, "Does education of the public really save lives?" Dr. Phillips said in his opinion the answer to that question was "yes." Giving facts and figures to support this, he said that in 1930, 30 per cent of the persons suffering cancer of the breast were cured, that figure is over 50 per cent now it was revealed.

Other strides noted in battle of the great killer was that in 1930 in persistent hoarseness cases 44 per cent of the patients were cured now that figure is well over 50 per cent.

Dr. Phillips said in his opinion the answer to that question was "yes." Giving facts and figures to support this, he said that in 1930, 30 per cent of the persons suffering cancer of the breast were cured, that figure is over 50 per cent now it was revealed.

A delicious and attractive lunch was served by Mrs. G. Henry's group with Mrs. E. Thurston in charge in Mrs. Jarvis' absence.

The audience was reminded by the doctor that medical scientists and doctors still know little about what actually causes cancer.

The cancer research picture in Canada is changing rapidly," said Dr. Phillips, the speaker went on to relate that over one million dollars is now spent yearly on this work.

The greatest killer is still stomach cancer, revealed the doctor, who noted that 22,000 citizens of Canada died from the dreaded disease last year. Asked by "the Post" reporter to comment on the possibility of cancer being caused by atom bomb tests, the doctor said many tests had been conducted in this field and it had been established the chances of this being a factor were zero.

On the agenda for the one-day workshop were sessions on campaigns, education, extension, medical advisory, publicity, women's services and treasures.

Good Basic Bungalow Plan Provides Economical Living Accommodation

Where cost is an important consideration, this modest three-room bungalow is worthy of consideration. All drills and extras have been estimated but the design provides good basic living accommodation.

Of frame and brick veneer construction, the house is particularly suited to a narrow lot with the entrance hall to the kitchen and bathroom as well as the living room. Conveniently divided, the basement has a large area suitable for a future recreation room. There is plenty of cupboard and counter space in the kitchen which also contains a dining area.

The total floor area is 852 square feet and the exterior dimensions are 33 feet by 24 feet, four inches. Working drawings for the house, known as Design 289, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

Lindsay men among crew, truck driver badly burned

Maestro Norm Satch strikes a pose here as he prepares to go into the act of providing live accompaniment for some of the rollicking tunes in the current Kivanas Club musical comedy production "Hello Shiloh" which is the rehearsal stage at the Lindsay Kivanas Recreation Centre. Norm dars a smooth bow and makes real southern-style music. Reserve seat tickets went on sale this week at Court's Music Centre and Producer George Zarfas says he anticipates the show will establish new attendance records.

Premier Frost scotches additional by-pass yarns

Premier Leslie M. Frost scotched persistent reports to the effect that a new highway route was contemplated on Lindsay's northern outposts.

Mr. Frost told "The Post" there was nothing of this under study by the Dept. of Highways and that he had no indication that would be done.

Said the premier, "When the need for linking up the various highways around Lindsay arose in connection with the Trans-Canada Highway development, three proposals were considered as by-pass routes. These were all given careful study and the present by-pass hookup is the end product of these studies."

In a word, Mr. Frost discounted the reports as being just that, reports without foundation.

Lindsay men among crew, truck driver badly burned

The crew aboard a Belleville-Toronto passenger train had to jump for their lives this morning when the train collided with a propane-laden transport.

The train was coming into Peterborough on its circuitous route to Toronto via Lindsay when the accident occurred.

Seconds after the collision, flame engulfed the diesel engine and the propane gas truck. Railway officials say there was no explosion as such, just enveloping flame which burned for several hours and destroyed both the train's engine and the truck.

Crewmen aboard the train who helped to safety were Conductor Leslie Lee of Toronto, Engineer Jack Cochran and Fireman Robt. Hope, both of Lindsay.

The driver of the propane-carrying transport didn't make it to safety. He was hospitalized at Peterborough with what is described as third degree burns to scalp, face, neck and both hands, second degree burns to both legs. The truck driver is Jack Scott of Milton. His condition is described as serious. He is 31 years of age and married.

Lindsay host to visitor from London

Mayor Lloyd Burrows and Ontario Chairman Mel DeGroat were hosts to a visitor from Ontario House, London, Eng.-today.

Mr. Richard H. Stapleford, Trade and Industrial Commissioner, Ontario Government, Ontario House, London, spent about an hour in Lindsay this morning obtaining first hand information for use by his office.

The party was accompanied by Regional Manager Don Kingdon, Lake Ontario Development Association, of Peterborough.

Curious to see just how noisy Mr. Steep's job was, a visit was made to the scene. For a time the visitor thought there must be some mistake — everything was so quiet. He was just about to leave when a door opened and distance away roared into action.

Thinking it must be that (Phone Turns to Page 4)

Many say an elephant never forgets. Some cats do a very nice job of remembering too. One particularly scholarly cat, from the standpoint of memory work at least, always remembers to look "as ugly as a sin" every time he gets fed and refuses to make himself agreeable until someone in the house gives him a twinkle. And he usually manages to get it. It's an entirely different story if his lord and master arrives home looking to the left . . . He, poor guy, is accused of not having sense enough to come in out of the rain.

October birth 31 days . . . One day longer in which to raise the rent, the money for the internal revenue bureau, and payments on various and sundry items which were purchased on the 'easy' payment plan.

Talking about paying for things, there's one item which can be bought on the long distance plan which affords you all kinds of entertainment as you go. That's a player piano.

You may not be a player piano, but you can soon be rolling in music. Nothing like a few bars of "The Twelfth Street Rag" to set the old dogs tapping and carry one back in memory to the days when "cash was king" and a good piano was easier for a man to get to sleep at night without telling himself bedtime stories.

A very kind friend has forwarded a couple of copies of a booklet captioned "The Booklet News Letter" with The Philosophy of WILLIAM HEATHER". Just a few hours you want to borrow these booklets, here is a direct quote from the Philoso-

Kindness

It should not discourage us if our kindness is unacknowledged; it has its influence still. —Anon.

Editorial

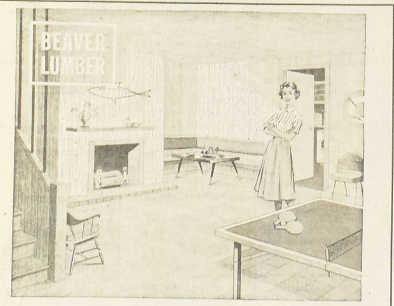

"IF YOU DO NOT SPEAK, . . ."

Lindsay is a very highly organized town. Last night there were no less than four meetings at about the same time. The unfortunate part about this is that one person can only be one place at one time, and since key personnel at some of these meetings were on the VIP list of others, some meetings were denied the pleasure of their company.

The fact of the matter seems to be that those people who are willing to give of their time for community betterment are, for the moment at least, too much in the minority. . . . They are the ones who year after year volunteer their services and who others have come to take for granted, assuming that they the volunteers will keep "the watch in the night" and all is well. But, all is not well. . . . There is an apparent and dire need for people to volunteer their services in the interests of community welfare and there is every possibility the community will suffer if more people cannot find, in their hearts to give of themselves for the common good.

Perhaps one of the reasons some people held back from participating in various community projects is because they harbor the feeling that they wouldn't be welcome. . . . Nothing could be more removed from the truth. Many organizations, among which is the vital Victoria County unit of the Canadian Cancer Society, are in urgent need of people who will volunteer to help further this humane endeavor.

It might be helpful to both the organizations which require assistance and those people who would be willing to serve, if the fact were more widely advertised, so that potential volunteers would know to whom they might offer their services. There is a saying that "if you do not speak, you will not be heard" and it may well apply in this instance. What do you think?

How to Re-Pot House Plants

Stop for a minute and look at your favourite house plant. What a size! Now lower your eyes to the pot. A thimble, it's time to re-pot.

Here's when you should re-pot: any specialist with the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

When the plant is too large for the pot — the roots have become cramped.

When the soil has become sour — the plant is unhealthy.

When the soil nutrients have been used.

Now that you are going to shift your plant to a larger pot, make sure to use coarser and finer soil than you would for seedlings and cuttings. When dumping the plant out of the old pot, be especially careful not to let the plant fall, thereby damaging it. Tap the old pot gently on its rim and keep your fingers and thumb on the sides.

Remove a layer of soil from the top of the plant after it has been loosened from the old pot. Add soil on all sides of the plant, firming the soil.

illness. She was in her 80th year.

Presentation Held In Honor of Newlyweds

Valentia (PNS)—A presentation was held at the Valentia School on Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Doug-

The early part of the evening was spent in dancing to

About 11 o'clock Douglas and his bride were asked to take the chairs at the front of the room when Mr. Kenneth Mark read the address and the gift of an occasional chair was presented by Mr. Joe Co-kerill. Dawn and Douglas both made a reply in a few well chosen words and invited all their Valentia friends to visit them at their home on Bond

St., Lindsay, when ever convenient. "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" was sung, after which several viewed the beautiful chair they had received.

Lunch was served and all spent a friendly and social time together, all left for home wishing Douglas and Dawn much joy and happiness.

Old Landmark Being Moved

Janelville (P.S.)—The Old Order changed yielding place to New's came to mind as we watched the little white Presbyterian Church which has stood one half mile south of Lindsay, Ontario, for many years (built upon land given to the Presbytery by the first settlers) being moved from its old site on trucks to be remodelled and converted into a private dwelling for Mr. and Mrs. Norman Brown, who have purchased a lot south of the village.

The little white church has stood beside its cemetery for many years — a monument to the Presbyterian faith and symbol for years of Christian Endeavour and worship.

To those who had association with it there were many happy and some poignant memories — a familiar landmark sacred to the memory of many which will not soon be forgotten.

Janelville Presbyterian congregation is moving the church in 1899, with Mr. Binne of Victoria College to labor in the field. He left at the end of October with D. P. Oswald, a student in training came to this field.

In 1891, Janelville, Balford and Pontypool congregations called Rev. D. P. Oswald as minister.

Rev. D. P. Oswald was introduced to the following ministers and students who have served the church: Rev. Gomm, Rev. Ferguson, Rev. Mahon, Rev. Jones, Rev. Chalmers, Rev. Maclean, Rev. Campbell, Rev. Jamieson, Mr. Robinson, Mr. Conlon, Mr. Cahoon, and Mr. McCorm.

Guest Speaker Mrs. Westcott

The Thanksgiving meeting of the W.M.S. of St. Andrew's Church was held Thursday afternoon, Oct. 8 at 2:30 with Mrs. W. C. Follwell presiding in the absence of the president, Mrs. Ruthford, who has been ill in hospital for several weeks.

Mrs. Follwell opened the meeting by reading a suitable Thanksgiving message. She extended a welcome to our guests and expressed her pleasure in being able to report that our president is well on the way to recovery.

The offering was conducted by Mrs. J. McLean and Mrs. Ritchie. The offering was dedicated by Mrs. K. Pinney. Miss Patricia Gordon gave a very interesting and profitable message.

The speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. A. Westcott of Guelph, 2nd vice president of the Lindsay Presbytery was introduced by Mrs. W. Finney.

Mrs. Westcott chose as her theme the "History of Thanksgiving." Most of us said, "Thanksgiving Day is the Pilgrim Fathers and the Puritans, the Thanksgiving celebration is much older than that. Following the escape of the Puritans from captivity Mass was given instructions by God to the Pilgrim Fathers.

The seventh month must be set aside for a time of thanksgiving. Much time in each year was given to the worship of God, the offering of sacrifices and finally a feast to thank God for all God's care and the gifts they had received from Him.

She brought her subject up to the present day showing as she did that we are ready for thanksgiving. We should remember the freedom under which we live, the beauty and prosperity of our country, the friendly associations with the people in our own and other countries. So on our special day we should intensify our thanks and think of ways of bestowing them to be blessed.

A prayer of thanks from Pilgrim days concluded this excellent address.

After Psalm 109 was sung and the Lord's Prayer repeated in a solemn, a social hour was spent over the tea.

Brussels Sprouts
Actually tiny cabbages, Brussels Sprouts add vegetable variety to the menu. Properly cooked they are delicious, though they have a strong, unappetizing, dull greenish-brown color when overcooked. Sprouts make fine substitutes for cabbage for a family of two, where a head of cabbage might be too large to be eaten while it is best.

When buying this fall vegetable, choose green, fresh-looking ones with no wilted leaves. Beware of wormholes, and yellow spots. Allow one pound to serve four people, half a pound for two.

Remove any imperfect or wilted outer leaves and cut off a bit of the stem end. Wash thoroughly. Place sprouts in pan, pour on one half of boiling water with salt (a teaspoonful to each cup of water), then boil, covered, until just tender-crisp. Right to fifteen minutes boiling time or two to three minutes in a pressure cooker will be required; add nutritious of the Home Economics Service, Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Although delicious seasoned with salt, pepper and butter, variations include the addition of minced parsley and lemon juice to melted butter. Celery seeds, grated cheese, prepared mustard, or minced onion may be used too.

Possibly borrowed from Chinese cooks is the suggestion of sprinkling sprouts with toasted, blanched almonds after adding butter. Brussels sprouts combine well with other vegetables and meats, green beans or celery, for example, should satisfy the palates of those who prefer their cabbage neither large or small, some what fancier than nature provided.

Noel Arnold

He was eulogized in life

When Noel Arnold took leave of this life at his late Howard Ave. residence, he needed no eulogy. His life had been written in life following the close of World War One.

He was written and attested to by a group of Syrian and Lebanese to the care of the 27th Section, British Army, in Baghdad, Mesopotamia, Iraq, during the war.

It was on Feb. 26th, 1920, at eight o'clock in the morning, that he was called to his rest by a message conveyed to the man who was then a lieutenant in the ground forces, and committed over the signature of one Joshua Khamis and signed by the camp surgeon, entrusted to his care.

The message read: "We who are his names underneath in this report for His Honor Lieutenant Arnold, as a token of our sincere thanks to him for all his great kindness and practical help, in which he showed and did for us, for his little children and families, by saving our lives from the flood. Indeed he showed a very noble, Christlike spirit full of practical sympathy, help and love. Our dear sir, believe us that we shall never forget you, for all you did for us, and with us, at 8 p.m. on the 26th, 1920. There you were, the cause of saving our lives from the flood with your own hands, in our tents at 27 Section, Baghdad, Mesopotamia, therefore, your dear and respected name will be in our hearts and mouths for all the lives' time. May God bless you and God bless your future."

The message is signed by the camp surgeon who appeared at the flood with his own hands, in our tents at 27 Section, Baghdad, Mesopotamia, therefore, your dear and respected name will be in our hearts and mouths for all the lives' time. May God bless you and God bless your future."

The late Noel Arnold entered into this world earnestly on December 15th, 1897. Educated at "Laleham Hall" in England between the years 1907-1913, he entered the "Inns of Court Officers' Training Corps" at London, England, in 1915 and was commissioned 2nd Lieut., 3rd Devon Reg't., England, 1916. It is a matter of some interest that while attending "Laleham Hall" the school had the honour, one year of having its students confirmed in Canterbury Cathedral.

His service record following this date is as follows: Northwest Frontier, Peshawar, India, 1916; "The Buffs", Reg't., Mesopotamia, 1916-18; Civil Administration of Mesopotamia, 1918-21; Expedition into Kurdistan, Special duty into Persia, 1919; the Arab Rebellion, Mesopotamia, 1919-20; Officer in charge of a shipment of some 3,000 American refugees to the port of Batoum on the Black Sea, 1921; Interim Interests associated with the sheep and cattle station management at Pinjarra Western Australia, 1922; Asst. General Manager, English mine in Korea, 1923-1929, with headquarters in Tokyo Japan, where, by the way, he was stationed during the great earthquake; Manager of an estate in Kenya Colony, B. E. Africa, 1923-29; Manager and secretary of "Fur Ranches Ltd.", Lindsay, Canada; Flight Lieut., D.A.P.M., R.C.A.F., Canada, 1941-45; Foreman with Canadian Airways Limited, Lindsay, Canada, Inspection Dept., 1948 to 1950.

The deceased was the son of the late John Sheppard Arnold and Emily Hould, both of London, England. He is survived by his widow, the former Edna Marie Richardson of Worthing, Sussex, England, his daughter, Elizabeth, two sons of the Fleet Air Arm, John and Kingsley and one daughter, Bernard of Ringwood, Hampshire, England. Three brothers predeceased him in World War One: John, Hor-

He was eulogized in life

When Noel Arnold took leave of this life at his late Howard Ave. residence, he needed no eulogy. His life had been written in life following the close of World War One.

He was written and attested to by a group of Syrian and Lebanese to the care of the 27th Section, British Army, in Baghdad, Mesopotamia, Iraq, during the war.

It was on Feb. 26th, 1920, at eight o'clock in the morning, that he was called to his rest by a message conveyed to the man who was then a lieutenant in the ground forces, and committed over the signature of one Joshua Khamis and signed by the camp surgeon, entrusted to his care.

The message read: "We who are his names underneath in this report for His Honor Lieutenant Arnold, as a token of our sincere thanks to him for all his great kindness and practical help, in which he showed and did for us, for his little children and families, by saving our lives from the flood. Indeed he showed a very noble, Christlike spirit full of practical sympathy, help and love. Our dear sir, believe us that we shall never forget you, for all you did for us, and with us, at 8 p.m. on the 26th, 1920. There you were, the cause of saving our lives from the flood with your own hands, in our tents at 27 Section, Baghdad, Mesopotamia, therefore, your dear and respected name will be in our hearts and mouths for all the lives' time. May God bless you and God bless your future."

matter for Council to decide. "We have to decide tonight whether you are satisfied with the agreement."

It was suggested by Reeve Maidsen that the people be asked to decide whether a subsidy be granted the operator. "If the company has not sold itself to the public during its period of operation, the people will vote against the granting of a subsidy," Coun. Pepper declared.

In answer to a questioner, Mr. Staples revealed that a synopsis of the matter would be published in the local newspapers.

Immediately following the vote, Mr. Hutton rose to ask that his committee be disbanded as their work had now been completed. The Councilor was told by the mayor that the question still had to go to a vote of the electorate.

'Over 40 group' gets support of Lindsay's councillors; deplore prejudicial action

The corporation of the town of Lindsay has gone on record as being opposed to any reeve decision to the hiring of people over the age of 40.

A motion to this effect was passed at Tuesday night's special meeting of Town Council. The motion also stated the corporation felt there should be no such policy in connection with able bodied persons.

The issue was sparked when correspondence from Labour Minister Michael Starr was read. In his letter Mr. Starr asked for the present policy of the town on the hiring of men over 40, also the Council was asked to give any opinions it might have on the question.

Councillor Gordon Pepper said the whole issue was a lot of nonsense, "as long as men are able to do a day's work there should be no discrimination," he said.

If the company has not sold itself to the public during its period of operation, the people will vote against the granting of a subsidy," Coun. Pepper declared.

When it was moved by a member that the matter be filed deputy-reeve Peirce said it was an important question and one that should be studied.

The deputy-reeve said to his knowledge he did not know of any condition in Lindsay where this question existed. He agreed that the police and fire departments had age limits of 35 but he did devote from that on occasion if the men have had previous experience."

It was the suggestion of Coun. Jas. McQuarrie that a survey be conducted of each department and possibly of each firm in the town. Industrial Chairman McDeGroat said as far as he was aware, industry locally had no such policy. There is no discrimination towards persons over 40 as far as he is aware," added Mr. DeGroat.

Coun. Gordon Pepper said he felt Council should go on record as being opposed to any such policy.

Mr. DeGroat failed to see why any motion was needed if there had been no discrimination in the past.

"Discrimination is an ugly word," said deputy-reeve Peirce. He said the letter had used the word prejudice. The government lays down the rules for the hiring of firemen and policemen over a certain age limit the speaker reminded.

1960 CHEVROLET LIGHT-DUTY TRUCK LINE

Total redesign of both styling and chassis mark the 1960 Chevrolet light-duty truck line. Ride, handling and durability are improved by exclusive innovation of independent front wheel suspension, on all but forward-control and 4-wheel drive models. One-half and three-quarter ton conventional models also pioneer rugged twist suspension with coil springs at the rear. The compact, sculptured front styling complements the new chassis design for a low, powerful silhouette. Cab floor and seat are at an in-height from the ground, eliminating noise stress. Other improvements include more durable rail structure with new rubber mountings, new right frame, full-width hood opening, new hydraulic clutch control, suspended pedals and ratchet type steering.

The Giants brought up third baseman Ben Valenzuela, outfielders Bob Perry and John Weeks along with pitchers Don Choate, Charlie Davis, Julio Uvarro and Roderic Tiefenbacher. Sent down were outfielders Dusty Rhodes and Don Tausig and pitcher John Fitzgerald.

SOLID FAVOURITE

Second ranked pitcher Kenny Lane moves up one position and is a solid 13-1 record over seven appearances. Lane, who lost a close decision in a title battle with lightweight champion Joe Brown, is confident he can lead in the 147-pound class. Lane, a southpaw, is the boxer, Alkali the slugger.

Sports College "Get Fit" Programme Rated Success

Two years ago, after completing a survey of the fitness of Canadians in which large national representative groups of youngsters, teen aged and adults were tested and subjected to careful questioning, Sports College began a campaign to make Canadians aware of their low fitness level and the hazards to health, efficiency and enjoyment of life the low standards recorded in the study represented.

With the cooperation of newspapers, magazines, radio and T. V. and the full utilization of such Sports College media as the national B. C. Sports College radio program, speeches, booklets, clinics and films, Sports College was able to get the message in a large section of the Canadian public.

The educational campaign conducted by Sports College was augmented from time to time by statements from prominent and authoritative figures regarding the role a lack of physical fitness and regular activities was playing in many health problems, both physical and mental.

A tremendous impetus was given to the program when Prince Philip, in a speech to the Canadian Medical Association, expressed concern with the established low fitness standards of Canadians.

In its attempt to awaken Canadians to the need for fitness and regular activity and the dangers of low fitness levels, Sports College conducted over 100 national radio broadcasts, 40 national newspaper releases, prepared 11 articles for national magazines, gave 194 speeches, conducted 47 clinics, published 19 booklets, bulletins and pamphlets, of which 900,000 were distributed, appeared on TV by feature interviews, produced and distributed two films devoted to fitness education, dealt with thousands of letters asking for specific information and distributed over 1,000,000 catalogues describing material Canadians could get to improve fitness and exhorting them to start a fitness program. As many as 22,000 requests for information were received as a result of the C.B.C. Sports College radio program.

As many as 22,000 requests for information were received from single newspaper and magazine articles explaining the need for fitness.

Sports College estimates that in the two year campaign the "Get Fit" message reached at least 7,000,000 Canadians.

Another area of specific fitness promotion was with clubs, organizations, associations, etc. In covering this very important field Sports College in the past two years has provided more than 1000 groups, clubs and associations with fitness testing and activity programs.

On Saturday, Oct. 17th, a soccer team went to Lakeland to participate in an inter-school meet in which Haliburton carried off top honors.

Our girls' junior and senior volleyball teams went to Lindsay on Wednesday, Oct. 21. The Lindsay girls won both games taking the junior game 4-4, and the senior game, 16-12. However, as this was our first game of the year, we expect an improvement in our score when the Lindsay girls return in a week or so.

Everyone is cordially invited to our Commencement Exercises which will be held in the High School Auditorium on early November. We hope to see you then.

FACTS FOR FARMERS

Some news of special interest to our farm subscribers

How To Save Your Life With Lights

Shorter days and the rush of late fall work mean that a lot more farmers are going to head for their fields before sunrise and return after dark. It means that many of you will be driving tractors and equipment during hours of poor visibility.

"Too often this equipment is poorly lighted," says Hal Wright, safety specialist with the Ontario Department of Agriculture. "Our first quarter results of the Farm Accident Survey showed that there were many accidents that were attributed to poor lighting. Apparently inadequate lighting and slow movement make a dangerous combination."

Wright says: "Farm vehicles on highways should be clearly seen at 500 feet, which means lights should be turned on in snow, fog, rain, darkness, and under any conditions that affect normal visibility."

It suggests mounting one green clearance light to the extreme front, left projection of a towed implement, and one red clearance light to the rear. In addition, two red lamps should be displayed to the rear of the combination or one red light and two reflectors to the rear.

"Most new tractors are equipped with electric lighting systems, and the implements that they tow are equipped with mounting brackets on which to put your warning light," says the safety expert. "The Department of Highways requires every farm tractor to be equipped with 2 approved single-beam or multiple-beam headlights to the front. And it must have one rear red light that is visible 500 feet from the rear."

What about self-propelled implements with their own lighting systems? They also require 2 red lights or 1 red lamp and 2 red reflectors to the rear, and 2 headlights at the front as for other vehicles.

"These lights and reflectors warn traffic there's a potential hazard ahead," he points out. "Be sure to position them not more than 4 inches from the edge of the implement so that they show from the front and the rear the widest part of the vehicle. This presents a passing idea to another vehicle."

Florida Grapefruit Back In Town

Florida is a nice place to go when it starts getting cool, but even when you can't go south you can enjoy some of Florida's fairest of fruits in the form of the big juicy grapefruit now being shipped from almost every section of the country.

Grapefruit halves are a healthful breakfast fruit, naturally rich in daily-needed vitamin C, and their bracing flavor makes them delicious, too, as salads or desserts.

Everyone will love grapefruit if you make it easy to get excellent sections out of the shell. To properly prepare it, cut it in half; remove core. Cut around each section, loosening it from membrane. Do not cut around entire outer edge of fruit. Here's how to do the four variations shown:

Broiled Grapefruit
Sprinkle grapefruit half with 1 tablespoon sugar and a dash cinnamon, mace or nutmeg, if desired; dot with 1 teaspoon butter or margarine. Place grapefruit on broiler rack 3 inches from heat. Broil slowly 15 to 20 minutes or until grapefruit is slightly browned and heated through. Grapefruit may also be baked in a moderate oven (400°F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Serve hot.

Grapefruit With Grape Garnish
Slice seedless grapes in half. Arrange 7 or 8 halves in center of grapefruit to represent bunch of grapes as illustrated.

Grapefruit With Cranberry Garnish
Cut slice of cranberry jelly with small star-shaped cookie cutter. Place cranberry star in center of grapefruit half.

Grapefruit Salad Bowl
Follow directions for preparing grapefruit halves. Remove seeds from half; reserve. Cut out membrane remaining, in star shape to make "Salad Bowl." Combine grapefruit sections with diced turkey and chicken, shrimp or tuna. Moisten with mayonnaise. Sprinkle with salad and garnish with watercress.

Over $500 accounts discussed by RMH's Board of Governors

Getting best price possible, chairman states

Board of Governors of the Royal Grace Hospital paid considerable time during the Thursday night meeting discussing items relating to the accounts payable schedule for the month of September.

Mr. Lou Walker sparked the discussion by stating that the hospital was getting the best prices available when purchasing equipment and foodstuffs. The members said it was a buyer's market and it was up to the board to get the best price available when making purchases. Mr. Walker asked if tenders were ever called in when ordering merchandise.

Board Chairman E. N. Gregory said the hospitals at present are purchasing pharmaceutical supplies cheaper than any drug store. He said he failed to note how the board could tender for the merchandise.

Hospital Administrator Geo. Duggan suggested if the board wished to tender for equipment they would have to hire a purchasing agent.

Mr. Gregory said S. R. Pitts said he could only see one local drug store listed—Greys Drug at Chatham.

Mr. Gregory said the amount of the bill—over $500—was observed. Hospital Administrator Gregory said the bill submitted to the board by Gregory's Drug Store had been for x-ray equipment. Mr. Gregory said the store offered the best price of anyone on the market. It was discussed by Mr. Gregory if the store also supplies the Oshilla hospital with similar equipment.

"How do we stand for purchasing locally for our needs," asked Mr. Pitts. The question was if the board could source as much as possible from local points.

Mr. Walker said he was not interested in the small items listed on the schedule, he was only interested in the amount of which there would be about five on the September schedule.

Mr. Gregory said E. N. Gregory cleared the matter up by the satisfaction of Mr. Walker by explaining that none of the items the board was concerned about was individual merchandise. "There might be 20-30 items on the schedule, but none of them is an invoice," he said.

Board members passed the motion approving payment of the accounts payable in the amount of $35,000 unanimously.

BIG PROBLEM

British authorities are faced with the problem of finding outland residents to pay their inland revenue.

The Income Tax Department in Britain is officially called Inland Revenue.

Motor racing circuit being developed in Durham County

With the successful purchase of a large tract of land, situated within 50 miles of Toronto, the company of "Mosport" Limited has officially released the first news of a gigantic venture of which they have now completed the first phase, with the help of hundreds of local motor sports enthusiasts and their clubs in Ontario.

The Development Committee of the British Empire Motor Club, the oldest and largest of the sports car clubs in Canada, faced with the fact that the Club's present racing facilities at Harewood require many thousands of dollars spent to maintain the circuit and continue to develop, coupled with the 80 mile drive to enjoy its facilities, felt that an entirely new venture—much nearer Toronto — would provide greater spectator appeal and, if the right piece of land was found, could be developed into a road racing park as beautiful and interesting as Donington Park in England, Le Mans in France or the Nurburgring in Germany.

Are you going blind without knowing it!

The Kewarville White Cat Club whose membership is made up of people who are no longer able to see, and if it were not for the kindness of their friends through their eyes, is anxious to help others avoid risking a similar fate. A member of the club has passed along a paper on "Glaucoma" with a warning that it is one of the interests of eye safety, a request with which we are pleased to comply, hoping as they do, that it will prove of preventive value to some readers.

Quote the article: "Some Canadians are slowly going blind without knowing it. Like them, others are. Eight blind persons today enjoy vision most of their lives, but lost their sight before they realized that they were anything wrong, according to the Canadian Council of the Blind. This organization is in the forefront of the fight to the blind which is always eager to help prevent blindness wishes to warn those who may lose their sight while there is still time to save it."

Destroyer of your most prized possession that strikes without warning and often without pain is Glaucoma. This disease causes a gradual loss of vision. It is in the eye-ball because of increased fluid secreted, or delayed outflow of fluid, or a surge against the retina affects the nerve fibres which connect it to the brain and damages the optic nerve. As the nerves can never be replaced and sight never restored. This disease is called Glaucoma. It is still a mystery, however it has been proved that some cases are hereditary and that malnutrition, worry, emotional excitement, local use of atropine make Glaucoma worse. It is often confused with cataracts which are not anything further. It may occur at any age but reaches its highest incidence after 40.

"Warning symptoms vary. If your vision is cloudy or blurred, if you see colored rings about things, or your eyes are adjusting to a darkened room, do not see well from one eye, or you have no improvement from frequent changes of glasses, it is possible that you suffer from Glaucoma. Even if you have these symptoms your vision often clears up for a time and then the disease returns. It is painless and vaguely disturbing to you, you put off the eye doctor. If you are over 40 and never had eye trouble before, you cannot suspect that the more you delay, the more serious the disease to cause further damage to your vision. It is quite possible that your visual field is already being lost before you realize it. Glaucoma does not always cause pain, but it does cause examinations by an eye physician will catch the disease in its early stages. It is important to preserve the amount of vision left, possibly as long as you live. The physician does this by using drugs or recommending an operation or drainage of the eye. The eye is not dangerous and requires only a short stay in the hospital for the operation."

"Any person can also attend one of the eleven glaucoma clinics in the departments of General Hospitals and receive free diagnosis and treatment for Glaucoma. It is not a matter how much vision he has."

"Since sight destroyed by the hard going. Some have been unable to give their eyes to the doctor. They need and others know their nerves will fall on rock-like conditions. Respecting the Glaucoma 28-1; Anterior."
